Administrative History

The Indiana State Employees Association was a non-profit, non-political, self-governed, independent organization of merit service employees of Indiana. The purpose was "to unite all employees of the State of Indiana into an Association to promote their social and economic welfare through unity of action and mutual cooperation." Dues for 1959 were $3.00.

Scope and Contents

This collection comprises four documents from the Indiana State Employees Association in Indianapolis, Indiana ranging from 1959 to 1967 regarding membership to the organization, Indiana legislative bills of interest and contacting local legislators, and the effect a bill's passage would have upon state employees' retirement benefits.
